On Wednesday, May 21st, Sam finally came home. We are thrilled to all be living under the same roof again. In fact, Benjamin was so excited that he woke up every hour that first night. It has been a big adjustment for all. Thankfully, we're not in this one alone.

The night Sam came home, his friend Kasey came to help set up the lift and install the shower chair. Ben and Jill brought dinner, and many other friends worked hard sorting clothes for the yard sale.
